Here are the answers of the last homework

The world famous author of the Harry Potter books, Joan Kate Rowling, was born in 1965 in England. She studied French at Exeter University and then worked as a bilingual secretary. When she was 26 she moved to Portugal where she taught and worked on a story about a wizard. She returned to the United Kingdom and has lived in Scotland since then. For a while she taught French but since the first Harry Potter book was published she has made her living from writing. In fact, she is at the top of the best sellers lists and has been for several years. J K Rowling says she has enjoyed writing stories since she was a child and it is only now, after many years of hard work that she has achieved success.
